DISCOVER ITALY'S FOOD WITH US

I will guide you on a journey through Italian traditional recipes from North to South Italy

Hi, my name's
Marco

Passionate about cooking, after having cooked as an amateur for 35 years for family, friends, and colleagues, since 2017, I started as a professional chef.

I like food from all over the world, and I think that through the food we can get in touch with the deepest culture of a population.

I'm not too fond of waste in general and food waste in particular.

I speak Italian, English, and French

Together with the other chefs who work with me, we will let you discover the best local culinary delicacies.
